FOR PRESIDENT,
BENJAMIN HARRISON,
Of Indiana.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
LEVI P. MORTON,
Of New York.

Friday.....October 12, 1888
Catching at Straws.

Under the head of "Catching at Straws," last evening's San Francisco Bulletin says the Democrats were nearly beside themselves with joy yesterday over the glorious news, as they considered it, from Newark. There have been often anxious inquiries as to how Maine and other States have gone. But have you heard the news from Newark? Is something new in our politics. Newark is a considerable manufacturing town, in New Jersey. Silk and other manufactures are carried on largely. Newark is, beside, a sort of suburb of New York. At least, a great many people who do business in the last-named city reside there. Last year the Democrats elected a Mayor by a plurality of 1,808. This year they have elected a Tax Commissioner by 500 plurality. This has been heralded as a great Democratic victory. But on the face it shows a reduction of the Democratic plurality by over one-half. The chances are that this is the kind of Democratic victory of which the wires will be telling on a large scale on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November. But it will elect Harrison and not Cleveland.

SEVERAL THOUSAND WOMEN of San Francisco have petitioned the several political organizations to nominate women to half the chairs in the Board of School Directors. Why not? The scandals that have attached to San Francisco School Boards in the past have all grown out of the cupidity, political ambition and trickery of men. Why not, asks the Sacramento Record-Union, "give the women a show?" They will at least be free from the ambition to make positions in the Board stepping-stones to higher positions. They are as deeply interested in school work as any. Their inclinations are all toward cleanliness in the administration of affairs. It is unlikely that bossism will get any comfort from them or that they will be parties to corruption and jobbery. As a step forward in good politics, the adoption of the proposition would be a popular and right one, and tend to lift the educational department out of the mire of politics.

EVERETT P. WHEELER of New York, an anti-Hill Democrat, says that 50,000 members of the party will bolt Hill and vote for Warner Miller, the Republican candidate for Governor. Hill Democrats say that about 40,000 or 50,000 of the party in New York will vote for Harrison unless Cleveland sends a warm and appreciative letter indorsing Hill. The only thing certain about New York is that on both the national and the State tickets it will be carried by the Republican party.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN H. O'NEILL of Indiana, on the 14th of May, said in the House: "As a free trader—and I claim to be one—I protest against making the tariff so high as to destroy competition from abroad." The Chronicle asks, was Mr. O'Neill supporting the Mills' bill because it was a protective measure?

It has been suggested that the comet recently discovered with the Lick telescope, be named "Cleveland," but the New York World strenuously objects, for the comet is exceedingly eccentric, and is expected to disappear from view some time in November.

"Boss" DICKINSON, the spoils Postmaster-General, says that Mr. Cleveland is better than the Rock of Ages, and the Idaho Statesman says if Mr. Dickinson knows what he is talking about he is not only a fool but a blasphemer.

REPUBLICANS should bear in mind the fact that on November 6th the two great parties meet for the purpose of selecting a President, and make their arrangements to be at the polls.

CONGRESS will probably remain in session until October 30th. The session has already exceeded the length of any former session.

Details of the Pennsylvania Disaster.

Sixty Thousand Republicans Reviewed by Harrison.

Blaine Talks to an Immense Crowd at Indianapolis—Two Men Shot—Miscellaneous.

A Monster Demonstration.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 11.—The Republican demonstration to-day was one of the largest and most successful ever held in Indiana. Early trains poured their thousands into the city. Nearly all of the fifteen railroads ran special trains, and some of the roads were not able to bring all the passengers who desired to come. Not less than a thousand extra passenger coaches were employed. It is estimated that by noon over 60,000 visitors had arrived.

At half-past 1 General Harrison, accompanied by Mr. Blaine, arrived at the New Denison and made their way across the crowded balcony to the outer railings. Their appearance was the signal for a tremendous outburst from the many thousands of people packed like sardines in the streets below.

The cheering on the appearance of Harrison and Blaine continued several minutes, the cheers being first for Harrison and then for Blaine. Both men repeatedly lifted their hats in acknowledgment.

At 1:10 the boom of cannon told the waiting thousands that the column had started. It was 2 o'clock when the battalion of police made their way through the densely-crowded street. As Grand Marshal Millard, followed by 50 mounted aids, passed the reviewing stand, they halted with military precision and saluted. The column was an hour and a half passing. It is estimated that 12,000 persons were in line, a large majority of whom were uniformed and there were not less than 40 bands and drum corps in the procession.

At the rear of the first division came a gigantic Harrison and Morton ball, drawn by four horses and rolling continuously on its framework. This is the first campaign ball seen in this city, and its passage elicited storms of applause and cheers.

One of the most demonstrative organizations was the Irish Club. Their banner reading: "Protection; it's Irish, you know." They also carried a quoniam streamer 100 feet long, inscribed in big green letters, "Cead Mille Failte (to our distinguished American Celt) James G. Blaine."

From Illinois there were a dozen clubs, aggregating nearly a thousand manufacturers. One Illinois club carried a tattered flag of the campaign of 1840, which drew cheers wherever it passed. After the review General and Mrs. Harrison took a carriage and were driven home. Blaine was driven to the Exposition grounds, arriving at the speakers' stand just as the rear of the great procession reached the ground. Surrounding the stand was a multitude estimated at 30,000. As Blaine entered the stand a mighty shout went up from the multitude, and the din of so many voices mingled with thirty or forty bands and drum corps was almost deafening. After several minutes the din and cheering subsided, and Blaine stepped forward and said: "Ladies and gentlemen: A man might as well take his position on the end of Cape Race and address the Atlantic ocean as to attempt to address this vast crowd. I hope to speak to a small section of it in town this evening, but I came out here simply to exchange greetings, to exchange congratulations and to say to you, as you know before I say it, that this great course of people means 14,000 majority in Indiana for Harrison and Morton, and, furthermore, that a demonstration like this, of all Indiana, is worth 500 speeches from any man living. Good by."

Six thousand people filled Tomlinson Hall to-night. General Hastings of Pennsylvania and M. J. Murray of Boston entertained the crowd before Blaine appeared. When he did he received with great applause. He said that argument against the protective tariff was on the line to prejudice the West against the East—that the Eastern States got the benefit of protection and the Western States its burden. In answer to this he gave the population of eleven Western States taken in 1840 and compared it to the last census. He also referred to the wealth of those States under the two censuses, showing that in 1840 their aggregate wealth was under $400,000,000, and that twenty years afterwards it was $16,500,000,000. In 1860, he said, these States had 10,000 miles of railroad; to-day they had nearly 80,000 miles of railroad, or nearly three times the mileage that was contained in the whole Union before the civil war. Taking the leading cities of the Western States in 1860, their aggregate population was 670,000, while to-day they have 3,500,000.

"This is the way," said Mr. Blaine, "the protective tariff has been retarding the growth and development of the West." Referring to the foreign commerce of the country, which the Democrats said had all gone to pieces, he again quoted from the census to show that from the line America was discovered to the election of Lincoln the aggregated shipments amounted to $9,000,000,000—almost double as much in 27 years of the present protective tariff as it was during the whole previous history of the whole American Continent. At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Blaine returned to General Harrison's residence, where he spent the night. He leaves for Evansville to-morrow.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Horror
The following particulars of the heartrending Pennsylvania railroad accident, a brief account of which was contained in last evening's GAZETTE, have been received:

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Oct. 11.—From parties who to-day visited the scene of last night's terrible railroad disaster it is learned that the third section of the train had stood on the track a few hundred yards from Mud Run waiting for the section ahead to get out of the way. A flagman, some say, had been sent back with a lantern to guard a train from the rear.

Suddenly the passengers on the rear platform saw the train approaching at a high rate of speed. Several jumped and escaped. In an instant the flash of the head-light illuminated the interior of the ill-fated rear car. There was a frightful crash and the engine plunged full length into the crowded mass of humanity. The shock drove the rear car through the next one two-thirds of its length and the second car was forced into the third.

Not a single person escaped from the rear car, the second was crowded with maimed and bleeding bodies, and the third car had but few passengers who escaped.

The uninjured of both trains made their way out of the cars, and on going to the telescoped engine and cars the shattered engine was pouring forth streams of scalding water and steam, which hid from their eyes the fullest measure of the horrible scene, while the hissing sound deadened the shrieks and groans of those imprisoned in the wreck.

Ghastly white faces peeped into the windows to be greeted by faces still more ghastly. Some of the dead sat pinioned in the seats, erect as if in life, staring open-eyed as if aware of the horrible surroundings.

As the steam and smoke cleared from the rear car awful sights were revealed. Timbers were crushed and wrenched, while on all sides hung mangled bodies and limbs. A few bodies not mangled were burned and scalded by steam, and little remained in the rear car which bore human semblance.

When the shock of the first crash had in a measure subsided, the uninjured began to do what could be done for their unfortunate companions. The few light tools on the train proved feeble instruments indeed. St. Francis Pioneer Corps, who were on the train, piled with zeal their broadaxes, meant for holiday occasions. They were, however, but little adapted to work and were soon rendered useless. In the meantime the windows of the car were smashed in and brave men entered and released those least hurt or least entangled.

John Lynch of Wilkesbarre was hanging from the roof by one leg. His cries brought friends who stood upon the wreckage and held the weight upon their backs until he was released. A young lady was found caught by the lower limbs. One limb was quickly released but the other could not be freed, and unfortunately a misdirected blow of an axe severed it from the body. She heroically bore her torture, but could not survive the shock and soon died.

To free the bodies in the rear car the trainmen attached a locomotive to the wrecked engine and started to pull it from the wreck. The first movement of the shattered wreck brought forth cries of distress that surrounded friends ordered the engineers to desist on pain of his life. They did not wish to see the mangled forms still further mutilated.

The few houses about the spot were thrown open to the suffering, and bonfires were lighted to aid the work of relief.

A special train of three cars arrived here at 5 o'clock this morning from the wreck with 24 injured. They were placed in the City Hospital. Many of the injured are badly burned by sparks from the engine stacks.

Two of the wounded at the hospital here died this morning. Six or eight more will die.

Two Men Shot.
MONTEREY, Oct. 11.—A serious shooting scrape occurred to-day at Rawson's ranch, eighteen miles south of Monterey. The property is owned by Mrs. Alpers of San Francisco. She had placed a man named J. McHolme in charge. Another man, named Richter, had charge of half the ranch. He accused McHolme of disposing of property without making returns for the same. Mrs. Alpers ordered him off the ranch yesterday giving him five days' time. This morning Richter and a man named Delphs attempted to oust his family, and as they were roughly handling Mrs. McHolme, McHolme came on them, shooting both. Richter is probably dead now. McHolme came to town and surrendered himself. He secured the services of H. H. Willey to defend him.

The Gem and the Dove.

"Ah," said the Gem to the Dove
"I sparkle with light divine.
Your beauty is dimmer than mine,
I the tints of the rainbow combine.
The sweet notes of the Dove did reply
To the disdain of her opaline friend:
"I know that, indeed, I can be To cloudland my pinions can lend."

"Still, my dear Gem, is it right
To claim distinction of birth?
For we all bathe in the light
Of this glorious gem-sparkling earth."

The Gem did its light for a time
In the folds of its mother, the sod;
In reflections sublime
Came forth from the arms of its God.

Purer for its dip in the mire,
In the slough of bitter depond,
And its rays beamed with a fire
A reflection of the holy beyond.
—MARTHA J. WRIGHT.

A Nervous Bank President.

NEW YORK, Oct. 11.—Mortgage forger Bedell, who was called this morning in the suit of his former employers, Shipman, Barlow, Larabee & Choate, against the Bank of the State of New York, to determine the liability of the bank for money held by the firm, from which Bedell appropriated, flatly refused to testify and was found guilty of contempt of court. He remained obstinate. During the court proceedings counsel asserted that he had sworn proof that Bedell's refusal to answer was due to the visit of President Palmer of the Broadway Bank to Bedell in his cell at the Tombs.

Canoe Land.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—A telegram was received at the Treasury Department to-day from the Collector of Customs at Port Townsend, W. T., saying that the steamer Ancon, from Sitka, had landed a Chinaman at Victoria, B. C., on his way to Port Townsend, and asking whether he should be allowed to land.

Secretary Mayard telegraphed as follows: "The Act of October 1st positively prohibits the landing of Chinese laborers who have departed from United States territory. The Chinese, per Ancon from Alaska, cannot land."

Twenty thousand Yorkshire, England, colliers have given notice to their employers that they will strike unless conceded a 10 per cent advance in their wages, and it is expected that 50,000 will do the same thing before the end of the week.

The church people of Cincinnati have petitioned the Mayor of that city to enforce both the Sunday and the midnight closing laws, and threaten to cast their 8,000 votes against all who are opposed to this movement.

The U. S. Government in response to complaints of Montana ranchmen has asked the Dominion Government to modify or abolish the Canadian quarantine regulations as regards cattle.

Twilight Minstrels.

The above-named amateur minstrel company will give a performance at McKissick's Opera House to-night, for which a large number of seats have already been sold. The best local talent of Reno in the burnt cork line have been secured by the management, and all those who attend will witness a fine performance as those given by traveling companies. Mr. Walter Hastings as brass band leader and Prof. Kauffman as orchestra director ought to be enough to insure the theater-going public of Reno a good show. Secure your seats early as the box-seat is filling up fast. Admission 50 and 75 cents.

Why suffer with bleeding, blind, itching and ulcered piles, Catarrh, Old Sores, Chapped Hands, when a few applications of Fryer's Abietene Ointment is guaranteed to effect a cure. Price, 25 cents. Sold by Wm. Fininger. All genuine Abietene preparations bear the facsimile signature of D. F. Fryer.

PERSONAL.

Hon. C. H. E. Hardin was in town last evening.
 Indian Agent, S. S. Sears, came up from the Reservation on last evening's overland.

Hon. W. C. Dovey returned last evening from a trip to the eastern part of the State.

D. H. Birdsell, agent for giant powder and other explosives, was in town this morning.

Walter Harrub, formerly of Dayton and later of Eureka, arrived from below this morning.

H. M. Levy and R. P. Keating, Comstock operators, came up from San Francisco on this morning's express.

Smith Hill and wife left last evening for Oakland, near which place Mr. Hill is to take charge of Irving Ayers stock ranch.

Mrs. J. A. McBride of Winnemucca, returned this morning from a visit to her sister Dora, who is attending school at San Jose, Cal.

W. S. Bailey and wife have come to pitch their tent with us. Their furniture came to-day. Thus another good man is added to the community.

E. Niles, the insurance agent, is in town to-day looking after the interests of his company and will leave for San Francisco on to-morrow morning's daylight train.

Albert White and wife of the Palace Hotel, will leave on to-morrow morning's daylight train on a recreation trip of a week or ten days to San Francisco and other California points.

JOTTINGS.

Mayo Greenlaw, dentist, Virginia street.

Go to Lange & Schmitt for the best line of pocket cutlery.

The best and cheapest boots and shoes at Sunderland's.

Lange & Schmitt have the finest assortment of parlor stores.

Hats and bonnets stylishly trimmed and all military orders promptly filled at Miss Gibbs.

S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist, can be found at the store lately vacated by Wm. Haysor after the 17th inst.

Don't buy any men's and boys' clothing or underwear until you examine Sunderland's stock, styles and prices.

If you are looking for a quiet place where you can read the latest news, drop into George Becker's Granite saloon.

A schooner of J. J. Becker's cool boat or Sacramento, near in the middle of the day will be found very cooling and invigorating.

If you have not already done so, try a cake of John Fraser's boneless, cooked corn beef or some of his unexcelled head cheese or sausage.

By buying your letter paper at Thurston's you will save enough so you can afford to smoke one or more of his fine cigars or buy a nice nail or tooth brush.

The clear, rich tone of C. J. Brookins' pianos and organs proves that he deals only in the best. Interview him and see how cheaply you can purchase a fine instrument.

Mr. Francis of the John Wieland agency, on the old McFarlin corner, is doing a paying business, the reason being that he knows his business and knows how to treat his patrons.

Now that we have in town an unmistakable case of small pox, every man, woman and child should, as a matter of precaution, wear one of Dr. Gunn's Carbolic Chest Pads. They hang about the neck and the heat of the body slowly vaporizes the materials. This vapor permeates the clothing and destroys the germ of contagion. For sale by C. M. Farnett.

Effect of a Hearty Laugh.
 Chavasse, an eminent surgeon, says: Encourage your child to be merry and to laugh aloud; a good hearty laugh expands his chest, and makes his blood bound merrily along. Commend me to a good laugh—not to a little, sniggering laugh, but to one that will sound through the house. It will not only do your child good, but will be a benefit to all who hear, and be an important means of driving the blue devils away from a dwelling. Merriment is very catching, and spreads in a remarkable manner, few being able to resist the contagion. A hearty laugh is a delightful harmony; indeed, it is the best of all music.

The Unsubdued Saints.
 The Fall Conference of the Mormon Church has just closed at Salt Lake. Instead of showing any signs of intention to comply with the law and abandon polygamy, as set forth in the petition for the admission of the Territory to the union of States, the Conference manifested its resolution to adhere to the doctrine and practice of polygamy. This action, says the Record-Union, will emphasize and strengthen the report of the Utah Commission, which emphatically opposes the proposition to clothe the Territory with Statehood under the deceptive Constitution proposed for it.

Nevada Beef.
 There is a big change for higher prices on Nevada beef this winter. Anthrax, or black leg has broken out in California, and the city of San Francisco is wild over the fact that diseased meat has been shipped there. No one dares to risk Southern California meat and they must turn to Nevada for an untainted supply. This will send Nevada beef up and give cattlemen a chance to realize good prices. Nevada beef has always ranked higher in market than Southern California beef, and will be much sought after this season.

Why will you go about with that listless air and pale face? Have you any life, no ambition? You seem to care nothing for what transpires around you. The beauties of nature do not interest you, and you feel that life is a burden. If you would have the vigor and elasticity of youth return, enjoy a good hearty meal, and feel like an altogether different person, then take Dr. Henry's Dandelion Tonic. It certainly produces remarkable results. Sold by Wm. Fininger.

For years I suffered from loss of appetite and indigestion, but failed to find relief until I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine entirely cured me. My appetite and digestion are now perfect. Fred G. Power, 49 Seventh St., South Boston, Mass.

Why cough and suffer with a cold when Fryer's Abietene Cough Balsam will give immediate relief. (It contains no opium.) Price, 75 cents. Sold by Wm. Fininger. All genuine Abietene preparations bear the facsimile signature of D. F. Fryer.

HAY CROP AND SHIPMENTS.

Items of Interest to the General Public.
 A. Mcintosh furnishes the GAZETTE with the following hay items: He says should his shipments for the balance of 1888 equal that of 1887 for the same months, he will have shipped from this place 2,500 tons. The shipments west have gone as far as Colfax and intermediate points, but the largest quantity has been sent to Boca and Truckee. He has also sent considerable hay to Winnemucca, Battle Mountain and Elko. Had the ranchers of Truckee Meadows been willing to sell at near former prices Mr. Mcintosh thinks the whole crop would have been sold before this time. As to the quantity of this year's crop, he thinks the first and second cutting was somewhat lighter than formerly, but the third crop and the fall feed are far superior to the average, and that on the whole the yield was equal to any other season.

A Substantial Improvement.
 John Sunderland found it necessary, to accommodate his large and constantly increasing business in the clothing line, to build an addition to his store. He has about completed a fine building 60 feet in depth by 20 in width, and when he gets his stock will make the finest display ever seen in Reno. Mr. Sunderland is a progressive man in the commercial world and fully deserves the success with which he has met.

Dried Fruit Sales at Auction.
 John T. Cutting, General Manager of the California Dried Fruit Association, is in Chicago for the purpose of arranging with dealers for the sale of California dried fruits by auction, on the same plan as the one followed by green fruits, and he believes the movement will prove successful. He also intends to establish agencies in New York and Boston.

A "Lovely" Tennis Player.
 Hattie—They say that Mattie is going to marry Fred Higginbotham. But what she can see in him is more than I can understand. He's awful homely and he doesn't dress a bit nice, and they say he is terribly dissipated; besides he's as poor as a church mouse. Katie—I know; but you should see him play tennis! He plays just lovely.

Almost a Fire.
 This morning at 11:30 an alarm was given of a fire in the lodging house next to the City Hotel. The fire company was on hand in time to do good service, but it was not needed as the fire, which occurred from a gasoline stove, had been put out by buckets. The only damage done was the burning of the wall paper, and a little water on the carpet.

How to Make a Living.
 Ten first-class milch cows and one hundred mutton sheep of the Downs breed will support a family of moderate numbers in this State where there is economy, a disposition to labor, and an opportunity to grow the feed to sustain the animals. The great requisite for success will be the feed, which will be required in abundance.

Profitable Horses.
 A pair of horses that weigh less than twenty-four hundred pounds are too light for first-class farm work. A twenty-six hundred pound pair of horses can draw a plow ten inches deep with a steady motion. They will also draw a reaper or mower with ease, and will be found equal to any place they are put.

A Deaf and Dumb Cow.
 Evidence exists that deaf mutes are not confined to the human race. In a farmer's herd for twelve years was a cow which never gave any signs of hearing, and whose deafness was at last proved by the fact that she would not respond to any call. Nothing abnormal could be discovered in the ears nor in the vocal organs.

Wanted the Crowd to Leave.
 The Shelby, Ohio, Times says: A Mansfield woman chased her husband a mile and a half with a club for winking at the hired girl, and he only escaped by climbing a pole. At latest advices she was sitting at the foot of the pole waiting for the crowd to leave so she could go up and see him.

A Life Sentence.
 Lee Sykes, who at Redding, Cal., pleaded guilty to an attempt to rob the Alturas stage in October, 1887, and murdered George Henderson at the time, was last Wednesday sentenced to imprisonment for life. George Curtis who had been held for the same offense was discharged.

Onion Seed.
 It is claimed that 500 pounds of onion seed can be grown on an acre of land, the price varying from thirty cents to a dollar a pound. The receipts from an acre of onion seed are usually large, but the crop calls for quite an expense in labor, much of which is hand-weeding.

Sheep.
 Parties interested in the purchase and sale of sheep estimate that there will be from twenty-five to thirty thousand fed in the State the present fall and winter.

Auction Sale.
 E. D. Emerson will sell at public auction at 2 o'clock p. m., on Saturday, Oct. 13th, in front of McKissick's Opera House, one span of draft horses, one span of draft mules, one Concord wagon, and two sets of harness.

C. W. Booroo, Auctioneer.
 Scurbun, tan, roughness of the skin and pimples are promptly relieved and cured by applying Dutart's specific. It is a never-failing remedy for skin diseases, such as skin diseases, sold by Wm. Fininger.

Irritation of the Throat and all Lung Troubles are quickly relieved and permanently cured by Fryer's Abietene Cough Balsam. (It contains no opium.) Price, 75 cents. Sold by Wm. Fininger. All genuine Abietene preparations bear the facsimile signature of D. F. Fryer.

How is your appetite? Are you nervous or irritable? Are you subject to biliousness? Dr. Henry's Dandelion Tonic works wonders. It makes the weak and sickly strong, builds up the whole system and puts new life and energy in you. Try it. Sold by Wm. Fininger.

BRIVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.
 Furnigate your premises.
 Don't neglect to get vaccinated.
 Copperas is a most excellent disinfectant.
 Mrs. Smith, Mrs. S. O. Wells' mother, is reported seriously ill.
 The grass is getting quite a start in the bed of the river opposite the gas works.

A recent strike in Best & Belcher sent the stock up yesterday from $3 to $6 75 per share.
 A moon to-day over 160 reserved seats had been taken for the Twilight Minstrels to-night.

The Tuscarora Times-Review claims that Bartine and Murphy made friends by their speeches at that place. Don't forget the dance at Armory Hall tomorrow evening. It will be a very social affair. Go, everybody. Admittance, 50 cents.

The date of the execution of John McNulty for the murder of James Collins in San Francisco, has been fixed for Friday, November 30.
 J. E. Shannon yesterday made connection with the main sewer from his building next to the Roma Hotel, and used as a Chinese wash house.

A photographer yesterday took some very fine pictures of the University students. The several classes with the different Professors were taken.
 The Twilight Minstrels, headed by Hastings' Cornet Band, gave a street parade this afternoon. The boys made a fine show. Professor Willis loomed up in great shape. George Nelson, the "dandy" bass player, was also in fine form.

A GOOD SHOWING.
 A Prominent Reno Institution Growing.
 The First National Bank has made a record that they have a right to feel proud of. Their business is continually increasing, and under the able management of C. T. Bender is it likely to grow to still larger proportion. At the close of business on October 4 they had a surplus of $70,000, and undivided profits amounting to $8,982 67 and a large fund of deposits amounting to nearly $130,000, a very healthy showing, and one of which Mr. Bender has a right to feel proud.

Not the Thrift of Alfalfa.
 F. P. Ball of Sucker Creek, Oregon, writes to the Silver City Avalanche regarding his experience with esperette. He says he planted the seed in well-prepared ground. It was backward in coming up, some of it appearing in two weeks, some in three, and some was six weeks in getting up. He irrigated it, he finds that the first year it has not near the thrift of alfalfa, though it is a beautiful clover and strongly rooted, and yet green, except the top which went to seed. The height is about two and a half feet, the bloom a beautiful light red. The seed ripens irregularly, and he thinks it would reseed the ground if cut for hay.

Death of Paul Jones.
 W. E. (Paul) Jones died yesterday at 10 o'clock of pneumonia at Sierra-ville. He will be buried at the Summit to-morrow at 1 o'clock. Mr. Jones has lived in or about Sierra Valley for many years and is well known to the traveling public as the landlord of the Summit House. He "lost" a wife, three grown sons and three grown daughters, and a large circle of friends to mourn his sudden taking off.

A Rich Gravel Strike.
 An Auburn (Cal.) dispatch of October 10 says: Encouraging reports from Forest Hill state that the May Flower mine owners have struck very rich gravel; that the old Paragon shows more gold than ever, and that the Dardanelles mine has also struck rich gravel. An experienced miner predicts better times in Forest Hill soon than for twenty years past.

Senator Stewart Coming.
 A dispatch has been received by the Secretary of the Republican State Central Committee from Senator William M. Stewart, in which he says he will arrive in Reno next Tuesday. He announces that it is his intention to stump the State. He says New York will go Republican by 125,000 majority.

Alfalfa.
 Twenty acres of alfalfa properly taken care of and when harvested made to turn the most money possible, will support a farm family of moderate numbers tolerable well with the necessary and many of the luxuries of life. It's not the big farm that brings the greatest profit and comfort.

The Smallpox Patient.
 Joe Wilder, the smallpox patient, rested a little easier last night. He is now rational and the swelling in his throat has somewhat subsided. Dr. Hogan thinks it very doubtful if he recovers.

Merit Wins.
 We desire to say to our citizens that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sold as well or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. S. J. Hodgkinson & Co., druggists.

SALEM, Oregon, April 10.—I have just been cured of a severe attack of Catarrh of the Bladder and the Urinary Organs, caused by the use of a couple of boxes of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can therefore recommend it as a valuable remedy for diseases of the Kidney and Urinary Organs.

Many forget that the hair and scalp need cleansing. Extra use of Ayer's Hair Vigor has proven that it is the most cleansing agent for the hair—that it prevents dandruff and stimulates the hair to renewed growth.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
Possesses the greatest possible power to heal and control affections of the throat and lungs, with absolute safety for children or adults. The experience of years has proven it to be of inestimable value as a household medicine, and for professional use.
Thousands of physicians and families testify to its great worth. Jas. E. Melling, Milland, Ohio, writes: "I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in my family for twelve years, and have found that, as a remedy for Coughs, Colds, or Sore Throats, it

Is Unequaled.

J. J. Miller, editor of the "Lutheran Journal," Lutter, Va., writes: "I advertise nothing that I do not know to be good. I was saved from the grave, I am cured, by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and have recommended it to others with the happiest results." L. J. Addison, M. D., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I have never found, in thirty-five years of continuous study and practice in medicine, any preparation of so great value as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, for treatment of diseases of the throat and lungs; and I constantly recommend it to my patients. It not only breaks up colds and cures severe coughs, but is effective in relieving the most serious bronchial and pulmonary affections."

John J. Uhlman, Brooklyn, N.S., writes:
"Twelve years ago, I was afflicted with a severe bronchial trouble, pronounced by a skilful physician to be very dangerous, and liable to terminate in Pneumonia.
After using one bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I found great relief, and an occasional use of it since that time has, I think, extended my life ten years at least." Mrs.
V. M. Thebaud, Montreal, Canada, writes:
"Last spring my daughter was attacked by membranous croup, or diphtheria.
The doctor prescribed Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which cured her of the diphtheria.
Being still very weak and sick, she began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which restored her to vigorous health."

THE COWBOY AS HE IS.
For the Wild Whiskey-Drinking Fiend that has been poisoning the human race.

I was sitting in the office of the Hotel Maverick, of San Antonio, the principal hotel in the city, reading a letter which I had just received, when a stranger stepped up to me.
Examining himself for the intrusion, he began asking some questions as to the business in which I was engaged.
This being of a public character, the questions betrayed interest, not impertinence.

I looked up and saw a fine, tall man with a heavy black mustache. He wore a very broad-brimmed black sombrero hat. His hair was long, and reminded me at once of Buffalo Bill, with whose appearance all New Yorkers are acquainted, either personally, or by picture.

An interchange of a few words showed me that the man was educated and intelligent. His whole carriage and conversation were those of a gentleman.

After he left the hotel, I asked the clerk who the stranger was, and received the answer, "Russell, the ranchman."

He was a cowboy in every sense of the word, known far and wide as a "dead shot." He was also reported to be a man of his word, never making a promise unless he intended to fulfill it.

He had made money in Texas, having come from Boston, a poor boy. He worked as a cowboy on several ranches, and saved money enough to get a start in the world.

To-day he has several cowboys—perhaps fifty—in his own employ.

Cowboys are fond of playing tricks
of an apparently desperate character, without intending harm. I will repeat one told me by the person who actually went through the experience, and in his own language.

The hero of this adventure was at the Government employ, and at the present time resides only a short distance from where I am now writing.

Describing the scene and occasion he said:

"I was out looking at some land.
Finding night coming on, and being a long distance from any town, I made my way to a rough-looking cabin, outside of which were hitched five or six horses. I went into the cabin for the purpose of getting a bite to eat and a place to sleep.

"On entering I found it a kind of a one-horse barroom, and I saw present five or six of the roughest looking men
I was ever my experience to meet.
They were all armed.

"Their dress being part buckskin, I immediately recognized them as being cowboys, and doubtless owners of the horses on the outside. Their glance told me I was an object of disfavor.

"One of them, the largest and least prepossessing of the party, stepped up to me, and in a rough manner asked:

"What are you doing here?"
"Out looking at some land."

"Well, ain't you seen the land?"
"Yes."

"Well, what are you hanging around here for?"

"I have a right to hang around, if I desire."

"What right?"

"There is my right, taking out my passport and exhibiting it to him;
'dispute it if you can.'

"After looking at the document for a moment, he deliberately tore it up, with an oath that almost made the boards of the cabin sides turn green.

"It is better that I had a pistol, but what could be done against half a dozen such desperadoes? They had all drawn their revolvers, and one man stepped up and took mine away. Then the largest man said, forcibly:

"You're a—detestable!"

"I at once positively denied the accusation.

"What?" he said: "Do you dare to tell me I lie? I have a good notion to shoot you down in your tracks!"

"I began to feel very unpleasantly, and wished myself miles away from that place.

"Now, then, young fellow," said the man who first addressed me, "you have just five minutes to live. Get your eyes on that clock. It is now five minutes to 9. When that clock ticks out 9, you go down. If you have any prayers to say, say 'em, and be quick about it."

"I thought of my wife and children.
Home and a thousand other things flashed through my mind as I watched that clock.

"Take your eyes away from that clock," said the large man, "and you die on the spot."

"I kept my eyes on the clock, and never till then did I realize how valuable a moment could be."

"My eyes grew dim and the cold perspiration stood out in great beads on my forehead. The drops ran down into my eyes and nearly blinded me.

"I wondered how it would feel when the bullet struck me; for I expected it momentarily. I began to feel faint and felt that I was about to fall.

"Just then I heard a laugh, and looking around, saw a negro by my side. The cowboys had disappeared, and I was standing alone, staring like a fool at the clock.

"Boss," said the darky, laughing,
"that was a good joke. The cowboys played on you. That old clock has not been going for a week."

"I looked up and saw it was still five minutes to 9 o'clock."

"I saw the joke at once, much to my relief, and would have set up the drinks, but the cowboys had ridden off and had sent back my revolver by the negro."

A Tramp Who Saw a Long Way.
"He comes a benevolent-looking old cove," said a peripatetic gentleman of leisure to his chum on the street corner.
"Let's tackle him for the price of a night's lodging."

"Don't yer think of it, Bill," hastily responded the other, seizing his arm. "Let's wait for somebody that's half full. Them benevolent-looking ducks allus wants to organize themselves into a society, elect a Board of Directors and hire a hall where they give ye a quarter. I don't want stay up all summer!"—Puck.

"Cheats!" said the tortoise to the hare; "but I get there just the same."

And then the hare said, "Cheats!"

THE PLATFORM.

The Republicans of Washoe, proud of the past and hopeful for the future, heartily endorse the platform and nominees of the National Republican Convention, as adopted at Chicago, and the Republican State Convention at Winnemucca, and pledge a rousing majority for Harrison and Morton and Protection, and for the Union and the Union and the Union.

We demand legislation from both Government and State in regard to irrigation, and for the improvement of our natural waterways, as well as for the storage of water, whereby the natural advantages of this section can be improved to their fullest capacity. We demand the most rigid economy in State and National expenditures. The establishment of the State's expenses upon such a basis as will secure good government at the lowest rate of taxation. We maintain that a rate of seventy-five cents should be and is sufficient to provide revenue for the State Government.

In view of the region of the new Chinese treaty by the Mongolian Government we demand the total and absolute exclusion of all Chinese, and they must go.
